

Why the whole-stem flux hinges on the unmeasured base

Points = mean $\pm$ SE per height bin. Models agree over the data, diverge >100x below the lowest chamber.

